Dear Sir & Mr. Bleasdale

So many sales have been in hand lately that I have been almost continuously absent since the receipt of your letter.

But I put aside as many as I could of the desired lots on its receipt & have all in readiness to send them in 2 separate specified parcels, contents as per invoice herewith.

It is very difficult to get them through as such are contraband; this route & diplomacy is necessary to accomplish it.

However I hope they will so through & reach you safely & be

[illegible] secretary

[illegible] 187 [illegible] thought to sent it separately at £33 but as it is a large sum perhaps you will consider if you can pay that for such a [illegible] before [illegible] journey.

I am extremely sorry to keep you waiting so long but it was unavoidable & the [illegible] work has almost made me ill.

Yours faithfully

[illegible] H. [illegible] Wright

Dear Sirs

I am this day in receipt of your cheque for £21 last, some coins for which are bad limits.

You have however overlooked to account for No 727. Queen Anne Crown which I sent with others in a envelope & in the list given.

Excepting this piece at 37/ the sum sent £14.12.6 is correct.

Now as regards discount, I don't care leaf & new low priced pieces at 7/6 I can afford to give you thereon!

I should like to make a difference to you but cannot even in under the circumstances!

Yours very truly

Dear Sir,

I duly received your esteemed favour of the 15th inst. with draft £24·15/, & the various coins balancing a/c except that I owe you half a crown, which I allow off the 5/3/- of 1678.

I am sending to you 2 other coins you wanted as per invoice herewith & hope you will find them useful.

In the contrary case do me the favour of an early return as at the low prices I cannot afford to wait a long time having [illegible] to apply.

With many thanks
